I can no longer hold me patient.
Heare me you wrangling pirates that fall out,
I shaking out that which you haue pild from me :
Which of you tremble not that looke on me ?
If not, that I being Queene, you bow like subiects.
Yet that by you disposd, you quake like rebels :
O gentle villaine, doe not turne away.
Glo. Foule wrinkled witch, what mak'st thou in my sight?
Qu. Mar. But repitition of what thou hast mard,
That will I make, before I let thee goe :
A husband and a sonne thou owest vnto me,
And thou a kingdome, all of you allegeance :
The sorrow that I haue by right is yours,
And all the pleasures you vsurpe, is mine.
Glo. The curse my noble father layd one thee,
When thou didst Crowne his warlike browes with paper,
And with thy scorne drew riuers from his eyes,
And then to drie them, gau'st the Duke a clout
Steept in the blood of pritty Rutland :
His curses then from bitternesse of soule,
Denounc'd against thee, are fallen vpon thee,
And God, not we, hath plagued thy bloody deed.
Qu. So iust is God to rite the innocent.
Hast. O twas the foulest deed to slay that Babe,
And the most merciless that euer was heard of.
Ri. Tyrants themselues wept when it was reported,
Dors. No man but prophesied reuenge for it.
Buc. Northumberland then present, wept to see it.
Q. Mar. What ? were you snarling all before I came,
Ready to catch each other by the throat,
And turne you now your hatred now on me ?
Did Yorkes dread curse preuaile so much with heauen,
That Henries death my louely Edwards death,
Their Kingdomes lost my woefull banishment,
Could all but answere for that peeuish brat ?
Can curses pearce the Clouds, and enter heauen ;
Why then giue way dull Clouds to my quicke curses :
If not by warre, by surfet die your King.
As ours by murder to make him a King.
